

CHANGES SUGGESTED IN RULES OF TENNIS

English Association to Submit New Service Regulation at Wide Divergence With Present Code.
California Track Coach Believes in "Crowd Contagion."

New York, December 21.—As if to atone for its oversight in permitting the formation of the International Lawn Tennis Federation to be undertaken by continental authorities, the English Lawn Tennis Association now is coming to the fore with numerous suggestions for changes in the Davis cup and general tennis playing rules. The English association proposes to submit at the International Lawn Tennis Federation meeting in March a new service regulation which is at wide divergence with the present code. The radical departure from the existing rule can be perceived when it is understood that if the new regulation is adopted it will be necessary for the server to replace the foot from the back of the court, behind the base line before stepping into the court, instead of swinging into the court with the foot once the service is completed, as now is permissible. This change would have the effect of showing up a player who followed his service with a rush for the net and, since a large proportion of English players advocate the new rule, it would be less detrimental to the English game than to that of almost any other country. A number of changes in the rules governing the Davis cup play also are put forward as desirable, although England lost the international trophy last July, when the United States team defeated the cup defender, the English team.

The powers of the referee also are increased by the suggested change, and among many tennis experts that these alterations in the code governing an international trophy should be an American were not proposed at a time previous to the loss of the cup by England.

The International Competitions. The International Federation of the United States and in both cases the role of cup defender. The official announcement from foreign sources stated that challenges soon will be forwarded for both the senior and junior trophies, which were successfully defended during the last season.

Interest in Canadian Golf. Canadian golfers are looking forward with interest to the annual match which will be staged at the time of the annual championships of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, Ottawa, next summer. George S. Lyons, winner of several amateur championships, will meet him and his fifteen-year-old son in four-hole play. A. Z. Palmer and his son Allen have accepted, and as all four will be in the qualifying round of the Royal Canadian Golf Association title tournament, it was decided to hold the match during the championship week.

Believes in Cheering Crowds. Walter Christie, the University of California track coach, states it as his observation that one-fourth of the time of track men comes directly from the cheering of the crowd.

PICK NO WINNER UNTIL LAST RACE

Light Rain During Forenoon
Put Track at Juarez in Bad Shape.

Juarez, Mexico, December 21.—Light rain that fell all forenoon rendered the track soft to-day, and in consequence the form players did not succeed in picking a winner until the closing race, when Nannie McDee came home in front. The handicap at seven furlongs resulted in the defeat of John Reardon, the heavily played favorite, and the triumph of Just Ted, which was quoted at 1 to 1. Reardon found the track just to his liking, for he went out in front, and, forcing a fast pace, outdistanced Brookfield and won by a length. Bert Getty was third. John Reardon was beaten off all the results.
